

REGIONAL SNAPSHOT

The Padthaway wine region was gazetted for GIC status on September 29, 1999. It is 62km long and 8km wide, with the Riddoch Highway running through the middle. More than 4000ha is planted, and shiraz and cabernet account for half of that. Chardonnay is another dominant variety, with smaller successful plantings of riesling, merlot, sauvignon blanc, traminer, pinot noir, viognier, pinot gris and sangiovese.
